3.7 Change of topic of research:

A candidate shall select and furnish the research topic within the period of one year from the date of registration. If a change of topic becomes necessary, the candidate is permitted to change the topic already given up to a period of one year for full-time and two years for part-time from the date of registration. Whenever a candidate seeks permission for change of topic after the permissible period, he/she would be permitted to submit the thesis only after three years in the case of full-time and four years in the case of part-time candidates from the date of approval of the change of topic.

3.8 Change of guide:

If change of guide becomes necessary for any candidate, he/she may be permitted by the Vice Chancellor to change the guide on request from the candidate only once. The research scholar will be permitted to work and submit his/her thesis under the guidance of the same guide even after the retirement of the guide.

4.0 Course Work

4.1 A candidate who has registered for Ph.D. degree (full time and part time) shall successfully complete the examination consisting of two papers i) Research methodology and ii) Paper related to the subject of research (one additional paper in case of inter-disciplinary candidates) after one year and before a maximum period of two years for full time candidates and after two years and before a maximum period of three years for part time candidates from the date of provisional registration.) In case the candidate fails in the complete methodology exam for whatever may be the reason he/she must reappear for the complete exam. Methodology examinations will be held at least once in a year. Questions will be recommended by the individual department and the question papers will be circulated to all concerned for examination purposes.

equivalent experience may be considered even without a Ph.D., degree with the approval of vice chancellor. Registration shall be granted in the parent discipline of the candidate only.

3.3 If the guide of the candidate has not been approved by the Mahavidyalaya authorities at the time of applying, the registration for Ph.D. will be done only after the guide is duly recognized by the Mahavidyalaya.

3.4 A person may be recognized as a guide for Ph.D programme in any faculty, if he/she possesses a Ph.D. Degree of this Mahavidyalaya or of any other university recognized by the Board of Management of this Mahavidyalaya as equivalent thereto and has a minimum of two years of teaching/research experience after obtaining Ph.D degree, with a minimum of two research publications in standard refereed journals/proceedings of international seminars/conferences or equivalent published work like books to his/her date of application for recognition.

3.5 For any recognized guide, the total number of candidates of Mahavidyalaya registered under him for Ph.D, including part time candidates, at any point of time shall not exceed five. (eight can be the maximum number as per current UGC guidelines)

3.6 For every candidate registered for the Ph.D. degree, a doctoral committee of not less than three faculty members shall be constituted by Dean (R&D), consisting of the guide of the candidate as member whose presence is mandatory, the Head of the Department concerned or his nominee and a subject expert suggested by the guide. In case of inter-disciplinary research, the co-guide shall also be a member. If the Head of the Department happens to be the guide, the Vice Chancellor will nominate a senior member of the staff of the concerned Department in his place. In the place of the Head of the Department, the doctoral committee will abide the same rules as prescribed for the Dean.
2.4 Exemption:

Exemption of one year from the minimum duration required is permissible in respect of candidates who possess an M.Phil or M.Litt in Arts and Science or Master’s degree in the Faculty of Engineering, and Technology.

2.5 Conversion:

The Mahavidyalaya may permit conversion from Full-time research to part time research and vice versa in respect of candidates registered for valid reasons and subject to satisfying the rules, regulations and conditions in force. The period put in by the candidate will be worked out in the ratio of 2:3 for research put in before and after conversion and vice versa. This is left to the discretion of the Mahavidyalaya.

3.0 Guide / Supervisor for research:

3.1 Candidate shall identify the guide for the proposed research programme and shall work under the continuous supervision of the guide. If university department has got a recognized guide a scholar should opt for his guidance as his first choice. If university department recognized guide finishes his stipulated quota then he will perform the role of a co-guide. If there is no department in the university where in a scholar opts for pursuing Ph.D, university authorities when they are confident such research topic will bring reputation to university, upon satisfactory procedures may admit such scholar in to the programme. An expert in the field in which the scholar is pursuing Ph.D will be identified by university research monitoring committee duly constituted for the purpose and they will monitor the progress of the research of the candidate.

3.2 In case of candidates who wish to carry out inter-disciplinary research, the applicant must identify a co-guide from the relevant field apart from the guide in the concerned department of study. If the co-guide belong to an academic institution he/she should possess a Ph.D degree in the relevant field. Otherwise if he/she is from an industry/ R&D institution an
Chairman, the respective Head of the Department or his nominee, an external expert as members and the Registrar as the secretary. The Committee will initially ask the candidate for a written examination and a presentation in the field of his research so as to judge the ability of research aptitude and motivation of the candidate to complete the research work. An evaluation report given by the committee will be placed before the Vice Chancellor who at his discretion will select and admit the applicant to work under the guide proposed. The provisional registration of the candidate will be effective from the date of payment of fee for admission.

Candidates selected for admission shall pay the prescribed fees, every year till the submission of thesis, as given in Appendix - A. If the candidate fails to remit the fees in time a fine will be collected which is deemed fit by the university authorities. In case of internal candidates the collection of fee will be limited to three years only.

2.1 Full time:

A candidate registered as full time candidate for the Ph.D. Degree possessing any one of the qualifications prescribed in 1.1 shall work continuously in the department under the supervisor concerned for a minimum period of Three years after provisional registration before submission of thesis.

2.2 Part time:

A candidate registered for Ph.D degree as a part time candidate (internal or external) shall work for a minimum period of four years after provisional registration before submission of the thesis.

2.3 Period of Research

No candidate shall ordinary be permitted to submit his/her thesis after a period of four years (in the case of full time scholar) and five years (in the case of part time scholars). On the recommendation of the Research Guide, the Vice-Chancellor may grant extension for not more than two terms, each term consisting of a period of six months, subject to satisfaction of the research progress made by the scholar.
